CHEKIANG MEN START DRIVE AFTER GAINS NEAR ANTING

Traffic Along R.R. Is Reopened Despite Rainstorm

LU WELCOMED

Further Advances Are Expected Today At Quinsan

BY TALBOT PATRICK

Nanziang, Sept. 10, 8 p.m.—The Chekiang forces on the Huangtu sector advanced thier front last night and this morning despite flooding of many fields by torrential rains, reopened the railway to traffic toward Anting, which they are fighting for, and are expected to push forward tonight still closer toward Quinsan.

The advance made a fitting welcome for the visit to this sector this morning of Governor Lu Yung-hsiang, supreme commander of all Chekiang armies, General Ho Feng-ling, defense commissioner of Sungkiang and Shanghai and in charge of the front from Liuho south of the railroad line and General Chwang Tse-ping, actively in command of this sector.

During the day, firing was light because of continued rains through the battle zone.

The night's advance was made by a drive in the area between Kiating and Huangtu, already mentioned by me as a favorite starting place for sweeping movements down onto the railway line. Lighter fighting occurred well south, in the vicinity of Chingpu.

This morning, a repair gang went forward on the railway and repaired Bridge 42, two miles this side of Anting, where the Chekiang troops cut the line at the beginning of hostilities. This was easily done, as the cutting of the line had consisted of tearing up three rails and tumbling them into a ditch inside the embankment. A force of coolies soon had them up in place again and they were spiked down in quick order.

Coincident with these reports favorable to the Chekiang arms comes another that last night's advance was slowed up and did not go as far as it should have because of another fatal mistake of identity among the Chekiang advancing troops. According to this report, the mistake was made by a captain, who ordered his men to fire into another body of men dimly seen in the darkness.

The fire was at once returned and between one and two hundred men are rumored to have been wounded before it was discovered that both groups were composed of Chekiang men. The captain whose mistake was responsible for the misfortune is

Settlement Boundary Is Maze Of Barbed Wire As Troops Prepare Defence

International Army Of American, British, Japanese And S.V.C. Forces Ready For Trouble

Barbed wire, machine gun nests, armed soldiers and sailors and marines, are the characteristics of the hitherto unobtrusive boundary between the International Settlement here and the Chinese territory around it. Not only are the roads running from the Chapei district into the Settlement guarded with barbed wire trestles many feet in thickness, which may be put into place at few minutes' notice, but the French Concession also, the territory of which is less liable to a sudden invasion from fleeing troops, is also guarded by barbed wire entanglements where the Frenchtown roads run into the Chinese city.

Over a score of miles run the boundaries of the Settlement, and every point which can possibly be used as an opening for invading forces is guarded. From the American naval detachment taking care of the eastern sector, starting from the Whangpoo, to the British marines along Soochow Creek, stretching as far as Jessfield Station and south to the Frenchtown border, the boundary shows the state of vigilant defense demanded by the Municipal Council's declaration of Tuesday morning proclaiming a state of emergency in the foreign Settlement here.

The three miles of Settlement frontier stretching from the Whangpoo almost due west to Yalu Road, starting with the road from Woosung along which an invasion is extremely likely in case of reverses, is guarded by forces landed from the American warships doing sentinel duty along the Whangpoo. The Woosung road is guarded by a detachment of gobs with rifles and machine guns, ready to give a warm reception to over-impulsive visitors, and similar guards are placed in the fields at places where it might be possible to enter by coming across country. Some six hundred men have been landed already from the American bulldogs in the river.

The American naval detachment, under Lieut.-Commander Reeves, has the Riverside Power Station as its base. They have been given the use of an entire building there, excellently equipped, with hot and cold showers, stoves, plenty of room space on the second floor for the men, and the third floor for the officers' mess. Cots have already been fixed up, and in addition to the very satisfactory sleeping and mess arrangements—supplies are mostly from the ships, though some fresh food is obtained locally—a photographer is on the job regularly, the local "Y" has sent

CHEKIANG FORCE ADVANCING WEST OF TAIHU LAKE

Kiangsu Troops Driven Back To Within Mile Of Ihing, Report

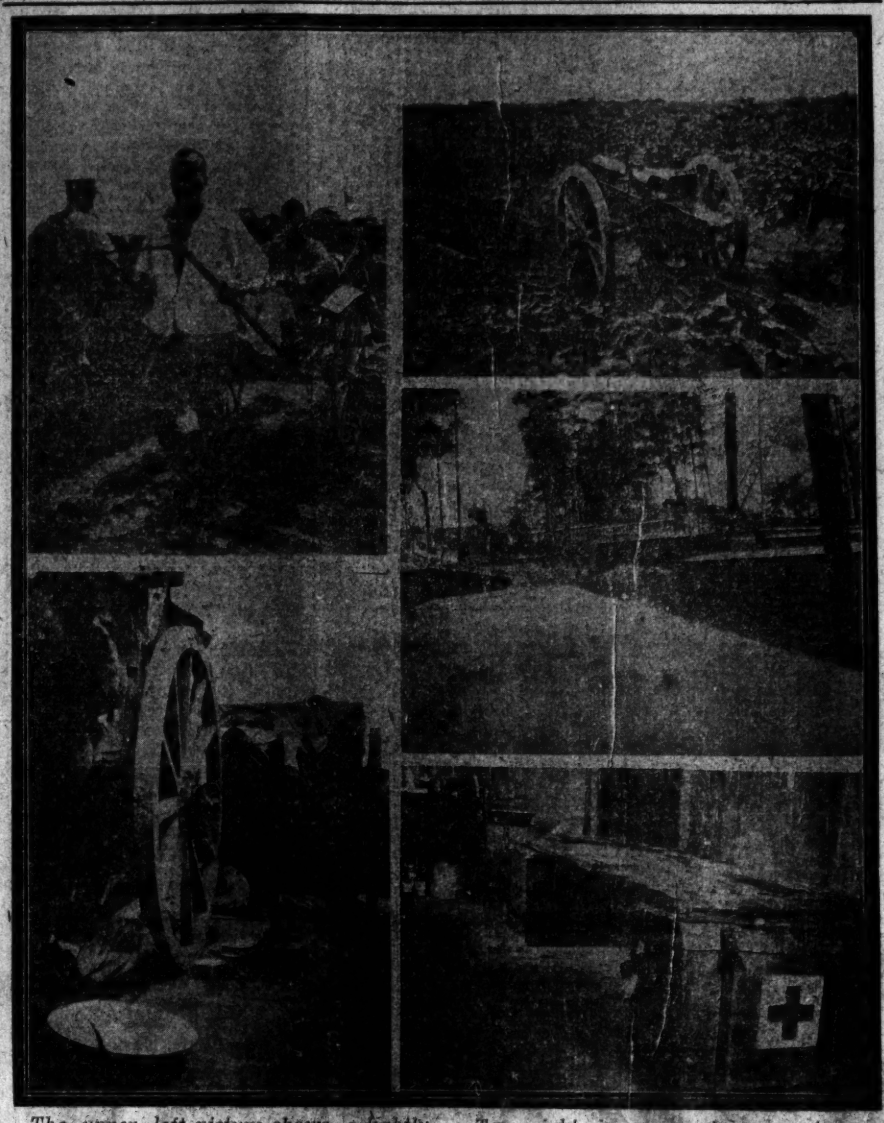
(China Press Correspondence)

Huchow, Chekiang, Sept. 8.—Word was received here yesterday afternoon that Tsingzah, a town in Kiangsu Province two or three miles from the Chekiang border has been taken by the Chekiang troops. Also a telegram was received here this morning from Changsing stating that fighting began yesterday about twelve miles north of there and that they were expecting the wounded to begin reaching Changsing immediately. They were calling on the Huchow Red Cross to send help at once to cope with the situation. This afternoon a message reached here that the Chekiang forces had driven the Kiangsu troops back to within a mile of Ihing.

All foreigners are feeling safe in Huchow, and especially so after the military officials offered complete protection for their persons and property. A telegram from General Lu Yung-Hsiang's office instructed the officials here to ascertain the numbers of foreigners and make plans for their protection. The officials assure us that there is no reason for fear at all now, and they will inform us if any danger arises. However if a guard is desired, it will be immediately given. There are only a few foreigners in the city now, while others of the missions are kept away by the interrupted launch service. Those in the city are Rev. J. L. Hendry, Rev. and Mrs. E. Pilley, Misses Sue Stanford, Mary Blackford, and Sallie Lou MacKinnon, Rev. and Mrs. H. L. Sone, Dr. and Mrs. C. D. Leach and their two children, and Rev. A. I. Nasmith.

Huchow has yielded up quite a number of workmen to the military authorities by the conscription method, which they have been working very freely in the city and in the country round about the last two or three days. This within itself has caused another exodus from the city, practically all the able-bodied workmen leaving for an extended visit to their country relations. The Chamber of Commerce has agreed to provide workmen for the army in such numbers as they desire, and thus relieved the distress of mind of a great many people of the city.

On The Front At Huangtu



The upper left picture shows a lightly wounded man on his way to Huangtu in a rickshaw which went out with a load of ammunition and food. Below at the left cannoneers are stretched beside a gun and limber which stood in a freight car at Huangtu. Bullets which whistled overhead adequately explained the humble position; also note the ever-present teapot and cups.

Top, right, is a mountain gun before which earth has been thrown up. The gunners are sheltered in a covered pit whose corner [illegible] right from bullets plunking into the earthworks. In the center are coffins of dead soldiers, the black one in the center being that of an officer. Below is a Red Cross operating table made of a big wooden window shutter stretched across two medicine chests.

HEADWAY MADE IN PARLEY OF SOVIET, JAPAN

Delegates Nearer Agreement On Issue Of Saghalien Rights

(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, Sept. 9.—At today's meeting of the Russo-Japanese conference, Mr. Yoshizawa, Japanese Minister, in accordance with telegraphic instructions from his home government, made an explanation regarding the question of Saghalien rights, which has been the cause of deadlock in the conference. Later views were exchanged between the delegates of the two countries but no definite conclusion was reached.

It has been agreed to hold another meeting tomorrow at 3 o'clock p.m. It is understood that the Japanese and Soviet delegates have approached much closer than before as regards the question of Saghalien rights but that there still exists a barrier in their views which, it is inferred, cannot be overcome so easily.

At any rate, it is expected that as a result of tomorrow's meeting, one can come to a conclusion on the whole as to whether or not an agreement will be reached after all between the delegates of the two countries.

Another Soldier Disarmed, Deported

Another stray Chekiang soldier was picked up Tuesday night within the Settlement limits by Police Constable 156 attached to the West Hongkew Station. The soldier was attached to the 1st Chekiang brigade. At the time of his arrest he was carrying a .32 caliber automatic pistol but had no ammunition. He was taken into custody on Boundary Road, and after being disarmed at the police station and deprived of his uniform, was deported into Chapei.

CANTON DISPUTE OVER MERCHANTS CORPS RENEWED

New Ultimatum Is Issued By Chan Lim-Pak In Arms Seizure

(Eastern News Agency)

Canton, Sept. 9.—The arms question and the strike, which were apparently settled through the arbitration of Fang Shih-sheng and Liao Hsing-chao, leaders of the Yunnan troops, have once again come to assume a grave aspect, owing to the fact that the Government is still refraining from returning the seized arms and ammunition to the Merchants' Volunteer Corps.

Mr. Chan Lim-pak, Commander, and other leaders of the corps, assisted by Chinese commercial organisations in Hongkong, have demanded from the Government the delivery of the arms and ammunition by the 10th instant. They appear to have come to the conclusion that in case the Government fails to comply with their demand, they will again take some drastic steps.

LODGE PROTEST AGAINST CHAPEI LABOR ROUNDUP

Council Fears Influx Of Refugees As Result Of Conscription

Representations have been made by the Consular Body with regard to the impressment of laborers for military service in Chapei and other districts immediately adjoining the Foreign Settlement, according to correspondence between the Shanghai Municipal Council and Comm. C. de' Rossi, Italian consul-general and doyen of the Consular Body, which is published in today's issue of the Municipal Gazette.

Last Monday Mr. Stirling Fessenden, chairman of the Shanghai Municipal Council wrote Consul-General de' Rossi informing him that impressment of laborers was taking place daily in the neighborhood of the foreign Settlement and "that the forcible action of a press gang in the Northern suburb (Chapei) on the afternoon of September 3, in binding and leading into captivity a number of native laborers, caused a stampede of natives across the boundary line into the Settlement."

"Any forcible measures put into operation in those suburbs of the Settlement beyond the boundary lines, which may cause influx into the Settlement of thousands of native refugees", Mr. Fessenden's letter continued, "will cause serious inconvenience to the municipal authorities, and may result in the presence of mobs of unemployed and destitute people, thus prejudicing the peace, order and security of the Settlement.

"I have the honor, therefore, to request that the Consular Body will be so good as to make such representations to the belligerent provincial factions as may result in discontinuance of such action in the vicinity of the foreign settlement."

Replying on Tuesday, Com. de' Rossi wrote that representations had already been made along the lines suggested.

LU YUNG-HSIANG SEES FIGHTING IN LIUHO HUANGTU AND KATING

Chekiang Forces Reported To Have Celebrated His Visit With Victories At All Three Points; Chen Yao-shan, Closing Upon Yihsin, Captures Important Crossroad.

General Lu Yung-hsiang, Tupan of Chekiang and main figure in the Chekiang-Kiangsu War, visited all the fronts at Huangtu, Liuho and Kating yesterday. He arrived in Shanghai at the Hsin Lunghwa station on Tuesday night and went to Huangtu at nine o'clock yesterday morning. In the afternoon, he inspected the Chekiang activities in Kating and Liuho with General Ho Feng-lin, the local Defence Commissioner, who also accompanied him on the Huangtu trip. At four o'clock he returned to Lunghua and after a lengthy conference with General Ho and the latter's War Council, he left for Hangchow by special train.

Further encouraging reports were received from the points General Lu visited yesterday as well as from the Yihsin front, where the Chekiang forces under General Chen Yao-shan, are pressing forward with success. Here, the fourth division under Chen, after capturing Nanshantsu on Tuesday, is now concentrating its strength at Lienhuatang. According to reports received at the Lunghua Yamen, yesterday morning it encircled and disarmed one battalion of Kiangsu forces under Major Fu Yin-chun.

The report yesterday afternoon filed by General Chen states that the right wing of Chekiang's 14th regiment has captured Wuchikwan and the left wing has occupied Kaochienyai. Wuchikwan is one of the most important points of communication along the bank of the Taiho and the very grip on this town would threaten the City of Yihsin. The Kiangsu troops are headed by Chen Tiao-yuan, using the fifth mixed brigade.

General Chen expects to capture Yihsin in a day or two according to his report to Lunghua.

The report yesterday that Kating was heavily bombarded by Kiangsu forces and that Chekiang forces were evacuating has been denied at the Lunghau headquarters, which claims that the Chekiang line of defence is yet unbroken.

In the Kating sector, General Yang Hua-chao has captured four enemy trenches, says the official communique from his headquarters, since the downpour on Tuesday. Immediately after the storm, it is said, General Yang ordered a general offensive and gained about eight li Northeast of the city. The Nanking army suffered heavy casualties.

The Liuho situation was also improved yesterday. Throughout Tuesday night, severe attacks were made on the town by Chi's forces, according to information received at Lunghua. The Liuho stronghold had by this time been reinforced by a battalion of the 37th regiment and large quantities of ammunition in anticipation of the onslaught after the rain. At 10 o'clock Tuesday night, Kiangsu troops appeared; and fighting in the streets continued till 3 o'clock in the morning.

At seven o'clock yesterday morning, hostilities were resumed. The Chekiang men succeeded in capturing one machine gun and several rifles. In the afternoon, more fresh troops arrived from Shanghai at Liuho and an offensive was conducted to drive out the invaders, who were pushed back about three or four li. In the chase, Captain Chiang Teh-shun of the second battalion of the 6th Mixed Brigade was wounded and was immediately rushed back to Shanghai for treatment.

CHEKIANG ADVANCED SOME, SAYS OBSERVER

Liuho, Sept. 10, 8.30 p.m.—We have just reached the headquarters of the Chekiang forces at Luiho which are located in the same position as the previous day. Chekiang claims 5 wounded and one dead as a result of the day's firing. It is believe that Kiangsu dead was about 50. The position of the forces remain unchanged if anything Chekiang has advanced somewhat. They state the correct number of Chekiang troops is 5,000 not 7,000 as mentioned in a morning contemporary.

The Kiangsu regiments operating on the Luiho section are No. 4 and No. 2 regiments. Chekiang claims to have a number of small river gunboats on inland canals surrounding Luiho.

Armed guards are now stationed at regular intervals along the road. A string of trucks was seen proceeding to Luiho with ammunition and food supplies. Shrapnel firing was noticed when approaching Luiho and machine and rifle firing was quite frequent.

SUN IS ACTIVE

The Kuo Wen New Agency received a telegram from Dr. Sun Yat-sen's headquarters yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock to say that Dr. Sun will personally lead the Northern Expedition to aid Chekiang and will proceed to Shaokwan on the 14th. The vanguards

FINANCE CHIEF'S HANGCHOW HOME RAIDED BY MOB

Furniture Is Demolished And One Out-Section Is Destroyed

Hangchow, Sept. 8.—A blow was struck for the Chekiang cause here this morning which must have stunned the Kiangsu soldiers in their tracks, and perhaps it turned the tide of battle. Some over one thousand of the husky men who are behind, and well behind the Chekiang guns marched bravely around the lake side, over the cause way out to emperor's island and then on to the handsome ancestral home of Minister of Finance Wang Ke-min on the south west shores of the lake. There incited by irresponsible, hot heads, local members of the Koumingtang, the mob attacked the home of Minister Wang.

A squad of police was sent to disperse the mob and protect the home. The crowd halted them at a bridge which spans the one entrance to the peninsula on which the home stands, and the gentle policemen turned their backs and let the work go on. After setting fire to outsection of the home the mob broke into the main section and demolished every breakable piece of furniture within. Not content with that sections of the walls and the roof were also wrecked. The work of destruction was carried out by men who in appearance were coolies, while the men who had started the fray withdrew and were not to be seen nearer than a large bridge three hundred yards away which offered a good vantage ground for sight-seeing. Boat loads of sympathizers also floated near the shore, giving applause to the coolies at the fall of the tiles.

The wherefore of all of this is that Minister Wang Ke'h-Min is a Chekiang man, but now he is in Peking and just now is trying to raise money to enable the government there to carry on and to meet its obligations. Incidentally, of course, Chi Hsieh-yuan may get some of this hoped for money and thus be enabled to put a few more soldiers in the field hence it seemed very desirable to launch this deadly blow against our enemy. It may even win the war. The home of the ancestors of Wang Ke'h-Min has been profaned, and now these same ancestors will know that thir descendant of this generation is ading the enemies of his native province, and surely they will frustrate him in his effort.

The inquest showed that Miss Nind poisoned herself by taking carbolic acid at a local hotel. Correspondence between the two was produced.

Former Austrian Ships Transport Kiangsu Men; Nanking Navy Powerful

BY LANSING HOYT

Chinkiang, Sept. 9.—As we rounded the Woosung forts yesterday morning, a cruiser and a gunboat of the Chekiang navy could be seen lying at anchor, but with steam up. These craft were about two miles off shore but near enough to the main channel followed by our boat to distinguish the blue-jeaned figures of the crews. The general impression of these boats with guns trained and with steam up and ready for action was not pleasant. There was no sign of activity along the shore of the Yangtsze at this point.

An hour or so later, however, frequent booming of field-guns could be distinctly heard to one listening intently. It was not a barrage in the sense we know it, but apparently a Chinese attempt at a covering fire. At this point, off the banks of the river about five miles, is mobilised the main fleet of the Northern or Kiangsu Navy consisting of three sloops, two gunboats and two cruisers. Compared to the Chekiang units which we had just passed twelve miles down stream, this fleet looked formidable indeed.

SEEM WELL-MANNED

Our steamer passed close up and we got a very good view of all the ships. They seemed to be well-manned and to all appearances were in fighting trim. The crews were in clean uniforms and superficially at least the personnel looked capable. Steam was up on all the ships and all the guns were trained on the south bank of the Yangtsze where the lines from Liuho end. No attempt was made to halt our steamer. Flying the Chinese flag as we were, and carrying hundreds of coolies, we could have been easily molested. There apparently is no blockade on the Yangtsze even for Chinese ships.

About eleven o'clock on Tuesday morning we passed two large transports filled with Kiangsu troops. These ships were being convoyed by gunboats, but were lying close in toward the south shore and were not steaming at the time we passed. The transports were good looking ships, former Austrian Lloyd boats, seized by China during the World War. They are ocean-going craft.

The business-like appearance of the Nanking fleet does not mean that a naval engagement is probable. Kiangsu naval supremacy is recognised, so no fight is necessary for the moment. These Northern ships off the shore near Liuho, are however, serving a pur-under Wu Ti-cheng, and Li Ming-yang left for this city yesterday.

General Shih Tsing-yang and General Tan Mou-hsin are leaving today for Haiphong in company with the representative of General Tang Chi-yao to call on General Chow Chiung-ming and devise means of co-operation between him and Dr. Sun in the march against Chihli militarists.

Dr. Sun, says the agency, is sending General Li Lieh-chun to Japan on a diplomatic mission.

SIXTY MORE WONDED

Sixty more wounded came into Shanghai yesterday, according to information secured from Dr. W S. New at a late hour last night. Twenty of these were badly wounded, mostly by shrapnels which gave the soldiers nasty cuts in the muscles. Previous to yesterday the wounds were mostly results of rifle shots.

The matshed at the Red Cross General Hospital has been completed and twenty wounded soldiers are now placed in here.

The British-American Tobacco Company yesterday made a donation of $1,0000 to the Red Cross General Hospital. This will be used for the purchase of extra beds which the hospital badly needs. The Red Cross are also in urgent need of old clothes for the wounded, whose own are generally badly torn or soaked with blood. Those who desire to contribute their old clothes to the cause may send them either to the Red Cross General Hospital on Avenue Haig or at the Red Cross Headquarters on Kiukiang Road.

said to have disappeared shortly after.

Another rumor of misfortune which had gained little credence among the troops up here was one that Yang Hau-Chao, second in command of th Fukien troops which took refuge in Chekiang and were embodied in its army, had been injured or killed by a bursting shell. The man in question passed through here on his way to Shanghai at 6:30 tonight and showed no signs of any damage to his person.

General Chwang Tse-ping returned here this afternoon for conferences in preparation for further attempts to push west. He looks almost too frail for the heavy burden he is carrying, but is found to be one of those who have learned to conserve their strength whenever possible.

Riding to and from Shanghai he usually lies down for a nap or rest. A story illustrative of his attitude toward his men just reached here from the Shanghai station, where the scene reported occurred late this afternoon.

The general padded in sock feet from his car toward an automobile awaiting him just outside the side gates to the station. There lay six wounded men on stretchers. As he paused to say a word to them, a drop of rain fell on the general's face.

In a moment he was calling for the doctor in charge. As soon as the latter appeared, he was ordered to get the wounded men under cover at once. A nearby soldier unfurled his umbrella and held it over the head of one of the six. The general glanced at him and then motioned that the men on the stretchers should be taken underneath the shelter of the platform roof. They were moved —fast.

Nanziang station platform and the vicnity have spring a sudden mushroom growth of brown canvas tents, to which the soldiers were driven from previously constructed shelters of mats, straw, etc. by the heavy rains. The former shelters were really little more than sunshades Water has drained away pretty well, but the footpaths are still long muddy pools and some of the tents offer their occupants soft mattresses of mud.

The second of the three Huangtu stationmasters came down today, the first having gone through to Shanghai yesterday a sick and very tired man. Volunteers have been found to replace them, but as yet no one has responded to a slightly premature search for a stationmaster for Anting. Unless one is found, trains beyond Huangtu will have to go slow while the crews watch for any other trains already up the line or coming down it. None is expected from the Kiangsu side, as that army is believed to have no rolling stock on the line this side of Quinsan.

Cross-Country Hike On Huangtu Sector Has Its Drawbacks

BY TALBOT PATRICK

Nanziang, Sept. 10 (Morning).—While awaiting full reports on the gains of the Chekiang army in the fighting last night and early this morning, I shall sketch an outline of the investigations on my thirty-mile hike yesterday.

The effect of the war was visible several hundred yards from Nanziang railway station, from which I started south toward Soochow Creek. The country is cut up by small canals and long, narrow ponds of water used as reservoirs for the rice fields.

In ordinary times, these bits of water are crossed by a great number of small bridges, some of poles or planks stretched across from supports on each bank and some of stone, usually arching. Yesterday the bridges were all up. Again and again I was turned back in my attempts to go south.

Scattered farmer families picking cotton directed me by a roundabout route to a canal bank opposite a small village. An ancient stretched in a shady bamboo thicket on the opposite bank eyed me with the same suspicion which the people in the fields had shown, due in part probably to my wearing a grey suit and hat which might be more easily considered like a uniform than the robes of some of the higher officers.

At my shout of "Soojo Ho," the old man looked me over carefully and finally decided to push across the poles missing from the village bridge. As soon as I had stepped across the rickety structure, he called a small boy to help him drag back the drawbridge.

BULLETS WHISTLE PAST

Further away from Nanziang in a southeasterly direction, the bridges were in place. A guide picked up en route led me to a point on the creek about ten miles west of Jessfield Road station, where a ferry took us across. Striking west and a little south we came to a town known as Kewang or Chiwmaya, as far toward the village of Huangtu as this guide would go.

Here I took on some tea and a new guide who led me by the zigzag country paths already tiresome to the creek an eighth of a mile east of Huangtu village. Firing had been audible for some time and machine gun fire was especially noticeable on the north side of the town, which lies mainly on the north bank of the creek.

Several bullets whistled past as we walked up the creek bank, but the guide smiled and murmured in Chinese a reassuring "Never mind." He soon changed his tune.

Many of my readers probably remember the high bridge at Huangtu, three arches supported by two piers beneath, and the top going up in one great swelling curve. They probably didn't notice, as we did, that the stone parapet on each side of the wide steps of the bridge is low.

Riflemen up the creek a short way had their eyes on the bridge and were sending shots steadily over it and even more among the mud and wattle walls of the houses at either side. Sight of a crouching form starting up the ascent was a signal for a concentration of rapid fire.

We went up with as much of a rush as can be done when waddling and nearly rolled down the opposite side. Down out of sight, my guide passed a finger five inches above his cropped head to show where he was certain the last bullet had gone.

THE VILLAGE POLICE

We were greeted by a calm village policeman with no sign of a weapon, another man who looked like the other policeman off duty and an elderly man ambitious enough to keep his tea stand going for the benefit of a very intermittent trickle of bridge runners. All the houses were closed.

Although the sound of firing was far heavier to the north, where the Kiangsu men had pushed forward the night before, than to the west, my guide thought we could start through the west side of the town for Huangtu station, a place indicated to him by a childish sketch of an engine and car, the word "Huangduh" and pumings accompanying a rotary motion of the hands.

We went a hundred yards, passing a woman who slipped into a shop with two big new cooking vessels and an armload of laundry soap and then bolted the shutters behind her. Just as we came to an alley open to the west, a bullet pinged down it and landed with a "thug!" in the north wall of a house opposite. The guide turned back.

We started next time to the east and north, around the other side of town. This time we accomplished a hundred and fifty yards beyond the close cover of houses in that section of town. Suddenly a number of bullets whistled by. The guide flopped to his stomach and unknowingly gave a perverted illustration of Napoleon's dictum as to the way an army travels.

Back near the bridge, we sat down for discussion of ways and means over some more tea.

"Bom," echoed the wall over my head as some plaster fell and a fraction of a second later a bullet rattled to rest in a shop across the way. Then the guide decided that mud walls weren't too good protection, and we went back the way we had come.

We have been carrying on our business for more than thirty years and have been enjoying the confidence and commendation of the public. We are selling the coals of the best Chinese coal mines, such as, Dah Doong Coal, Ching Hsing Coal, Chung Hsing Coal, Tung Woo Coal, Houchi Coal, Liu Ho Kow Coal as well as Saghaline Coal. The Shanghai-Hangchow-Ningpo Railway, Compagnie des Messageries Maritimes, and Italian, American and Chinese Warships, Cotton Mills and other industrial factories have been purchasing great quantities of coal from us, and our annual sale amounts to 200,000 tons.

Our coal is best selected and at moderate prices, and consumers may rely on us in obtaining the right kind of coal as named on their order, and that is why our business has been increasing steadily.

Orders from foreign warships are especially welcome. It is understood that warships used to purchase coal from the merchants who are not belonging to the coal trade and who obtain their coal after passing many hands. These merchants do not understand what is the right coal for warships, therefore they are liable to be cheated by these merchants. Such action bring serious damage to the names of our Chinese coal mines.

We are doing business on thoroughly honest basis in a measure to preserve the name of our Chinese coals as well as to push our business. We guarantee the satisfaction of foreign steamships who may place orders with us.

DOMINIONS WILL ACCEPT BIDS TO NEW CONFERENCE

Australia To Be Represented At London By Attorney-General

(Reuter's Service)

Melbourne, Sept. 9.—Mr. S. M. Bruce, the Premier of Australia, today stated that if the other Dominions desired the Dominions Conference convened in London in October, Australia would be represented by the Attorney-General, who was now at Geneva.

(Reuter's Service)

Bloemfontein, Sept. 9.—The Minister for the Colonies, Mr. J. H. Thomas, today announced that as a result of a personal interview with General Hertzog, the Premier of the Union of South Africa, at which he had made it clear that there was no idea of the British Government attempting to force their view on the Dominions, General Hertzog had declared that the Government of the Union would accept the invitation which they had previously refused and that South Africa would be represented at the Conference.

Chinese Diplomat Thanks Soviet For Intervention Stand

(Reuter's Service)

Moscow, Sept. 9.—Mr. Li Ty-ao, the Chinese diplomatic representative in Moscow, today visited the Commissariat for Foreign Affairs in connection with the situation in China, according to the Rosta News Agency. He expressed the warm appreciation of the Chinese for the attitude of the Russian public with regard to fears of foreign intervention in China, which had been so widely expressed in the Russian press.

The "Hands Off China" association now claims a membership of tens of thousands.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 10.—The Westminster Gazette states that China has long been ripe for some sort of Federal Government, and that the conversations proceeding between London and Washington is to be hoped that something more than ending the present dispute will be considered. The powers should attempt intervention, which would remove the cause of periodic outbreaks. It may be difficult, but it is the only objective which would justify external interference.

pose. The control of the Yangtsze River to within five miles of the Woosung forts now lies with the Nanking fleet. The Northern command may at any time move large bodies of troops down stream under cover of their fleet with a view to landing them somewhere between the present firing line and Woosung in an endeavor to turn the right flank of the Chekiang army. The probability of a combined river and land attack by Nanking forces at a point near Liuho is a constant menace to the Chekiang line. If undertaken with any degree of success, the Southern or Chekiang troops will be forced back on Woosung in order to protect and shorten their line.

SHIPS UNMOLESTED

Here in Chinkiang today (Tuesday), due to the war scare, ships leaving Shanghai for Hankow and other ports carry but a third of their normal cargo. There is however no physical reason why freight cannot be dispatched as usual. Even river ships under the Chinese flag proceed unmolested. The loss in freight is due entirely to the local financial depression and anxiety at Shanghai. War panic has stifled credit and warped business judgment at a time when a good many avenues of trade are open and when a common-sense view of the situation would greatly diminish the pessimism of Chinese merchants.

Wild rumor, totally unsubstantiated, has had too broad a sway. The Chinese General Chamber of Commerce at Shanghai could by simply statements of fact largely dissipate present apprehension in business circles. There is no danger of cargo seizures by either side, but there is danger that rumor will shake confidence to a greater extent than actual fighting could possibly do. Freight stoppage through lack of Chinese credit facilities between Shanghai and other ports is becoming more noticeable.

Wusih Merchants Rush To Shanghai For War Insurance

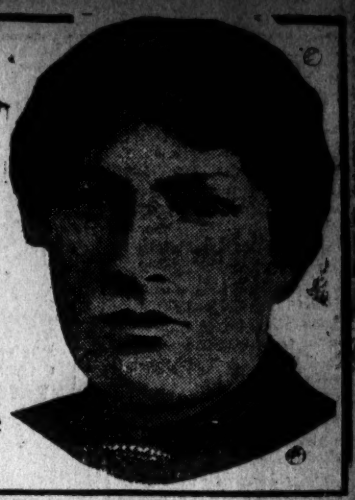
Wusih, the largest industrial city in the lower Yangtsze area outside of Shanghai apparently is becoming nervous regarding the war situation as was evidenced yesterday by several prominent Chinese merchants coming to Shanghai by way of Chinkiang and down the Yangtsze in order to take out war-risk insurance on their factories and other property.

One foreign insurance firm in Shanghai was reported to have written one policy for $2,000,000 yesterday on one cotton mill.

According to the Chinese merchants from Wusih who were here yesterday, there is fear of Chekiang troops breaking through the Kiangsu lines at the town of Ishing on the west shore of Lake Taiho and cutting the railroad at Changchow which is about 25 miles north of Wusin.

Wusih which is the most important manufacturing city between Shanghai and Nanking has about 150,000 population and is a place where Shanghai compradores have invested much wealth in manufacturing industries. It is about 75 miles from Shanghai and about half way between Shanghai and Nanking. Its acquisiton by Chekiang would be a considerable asset on account of the large stores of rice and flour supposed to be there.

Terrible Wound from Abdomen to Hip



Our portrait is of Mrs. M. MACE, of 97, Bestwall Lane, Stourbridge, England, who writes:

"For 8 years I suffered with a terrible wound stretching from the abdomen to the right hip; during that time I tried doctors' and patent medicines innumerable, but without success. At length I was persuaded to try 'Clarke's Blood Mixture,' and after taking the first bottle began to see an improvement, which has continued, with the result that my wound is healed, and I now have no pain." In a further recent letter Mrs. Mace writes: "I am happy to say that there has been no recurrence of my complaint and consider my case a very satisfactory cure."

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Sept. 10.—According to Chinese reports, the Second and Third Chekiang Divisions have declared their independence under the Civil Governor of Chekiang, General Chang Tsai-yang.

The War Office believes the report and predicts that it will cause complete alteration of General Lu Yung-hsiang's plans.

Seriously Wounded Soldiers Sent To General Hospital

Seventy-four wounded were received by the Chinese Red Cross at the Tientsin Road Hospital yesterday. The greater number were from Huangtu.

Through arrangements made by the Chinese Red Cross four of the more seriously wounded were taken to the Shanghai General Hospital for operation. The more seriously wounded among those who are to arrive today are to be taken to St. Luke's Hospital.

Red Cross officials last night estimated that the total number of wounded received in Shanghai so far exceeds 500. Most of wounded from the Liuho sector are being taken to the Woosung Naval Hospital, which is now said to have about 350 Chekiang wounded. Conservative estimates place the number of Chekiang wounded during the week's fighting at about 1,000, and the dead, about 500, making a total af 1,500 casualties on the Chekiang side.

London, Sept. 10.—The Times states that 10 shillings percent for one month was quoted yesterday to cover goods in Shanghai against risk of aircraft damage only.

The Daily Chronicle discusses the possibility of the Powers concertedly negotiating for the peaceful control of the Chinese railways, and absolutely refusing them for the carriage of Chinese troops, thus making peace almost automatic. The journal says that this would require a very complete concordat of the Powers. On the Chinese side, it seems likely that a large body of opinion might eventually rally to the idea as affording the sole hope of a respite from the present evils.

p newspapers and magazines, and here is a movie show for the boys very evening, also run by the Y". The present space may very ossibly prove inadequate, however, and there is already an offer rom the N.Y.K., adjoining the ower Plant, of ground space, with ater connections and every other onvenience, sufficient for a conderable encampment.

Shelters are being put up for the en along the frontier, but these ave not been completed, and the obs were thoroughly drenched for our after hour in Tuesday's loudburst, as well as being almost aist-deep in water at many points the boundary where the flooded oads could not carry off the fallg torrents of rain.

The sector from Yalu Road west Chaufoong Road at Medhurst ollege is held by the Italian orces. Medhurst College is the enter for the Italian fighting men this locality, and the inspiring dor of garlic and onions from e College kitchen gives strength the soul as one approaches the he men's mess Heavy barbed ire entanglements are here, any feet in thickness on Chaoong Road where this road comes hrough from the crowded Chinese ty.

One of the most delicate tasks that allotted to the Japanese orces, who have been given charge the district from Sawgin Creek own to and beyond Hongkew ark. The actual territory of the ettlement here is a very narrow rip of land along North Szechuen oad, broadening out at the Park nd Rifle Range, but there are onsiderable colonies of Japanese nd other foreigners in the disict outside the Settlement proper, s well as Japanese and other oreign enterprises, factories, ills, etc. These enterprises and ese people may need protection, d need it badly, and in case of treme emergency the amount of otection the local Chinese thorities would be able to give problematical to say the least. he Japanese forces, several ndred in all, are there to protect ese foreigners. They are not ecting barbed wire on Chinese rritory, but they must protect e foreigners there, and they ndoubtedly will, as anyone will onclude who notes the businesslike preparations they have aleady made. Tent encampments re already complete at the Rifle ange and in Honskew Park and part of the Japanese forces are lso at the Japanese Girls' School.

Capt. Matsuzaki is the comanding officer of the Japanese anding forces, and the difficult ask allotted to them should be arried out most successfully if hey are called upon.

THE VOLUNTEER CORPS

The next sector, Chapel proper, s taken care of by the Shanghai olunteer Corps. This part of he frontier includes most of the treets running through from the rowded Chinese city to the north nd northwest of us into the ettlement. All these roads must e left open but carefully guarded, and close to each opening are arbed wire trestles which may e put into place at once when equired.

The various units of the S.V.C. ave different bases of operations. he two American units, the avalry Troop and the American ompany, are centered at the ace Course and the Masonic lub respectively. The Field rtillery have their headquarters t the Golf Club and Polo Club, t the Race Course. The Japane Company, the Machine Gun ompany, the Engineers, and the mored cars on general patrol ty here have the S.V.C. Headarters in the Municipal Buildg as their base. The Shanghai cottish, "A" Company British, he Light Horse, the British Inantry Reserves, and half of the hinese Company, are at the Race Course. The Portuguese Company is centered at the Catholic Circles on Avenue Edward VII, and "B" Company British at the Cathedral.

Half of the Chinese Company is doing guard duty at the gas works at Thibet Road bridge. The works are close to the Settlement boundary, and this special force has been assigned for their defense. Lieut. Chang is in charge.

BRITISH AND FRENCH

The British forces, encamped at Jessfield Park, are taking care of the big sector of frontier along Soochow Creek, west and southwest as far as the Jessfield railway station, and roughly southeast from here towards the western terminus of Avenue Joffre. The French forces, six hundred odd, are taking care of the frontier between the French Concession and the Chinese city. There is little danger apparent here, but no chances are being taken, and barbed wire fences are up and more in preparation in case of emergency.

The Foreign Settlement is on guard. Doubters are invited to try some of the barbed wire, which is an excellent symbol of the Settlement's boundary at the present time.

Boy Scouts Given Use Of Rifle Range

In accordance with a request made by Mr. Sidney Barton, Patron and President of the Boy Scouts Association (Shanghai Branch), the Municipal Council has granted permission to the Boy Scouts to use one of the miniature rifle ranges maintained by the Council for the Volunteer Corps.

The only conditions made by the Council are that the Boy Scouts adhere to the regulations governing use of the range, that they provide their own ammunition, and that they find their own responsible instructor.

In his petition to the Council, Mr. Barton pointed out that the majority of the Scouts would eventually become members of the Volunteer Corps and that such training as they might obtain now would then stand them in good stead.

Eight-Hour Day Plan Indorsed By Labor Ministers

(Reuter's Service)

Berne, Sept. 9.—The Conference of Labor Ministers concluded today. The Ministers agreed on the desirability of reaching a practical international application of the principle of the eight-hour day on the basis of the Washington Convention.

The German Minister, Herr Brauns, emphasised that he could not accept anything implying any sort of foreign control on German economic legislation. He was assured that the position of all countries signing the convention would be exactly the same. Any country doubting the efficacy of the application of the eight-hour day in another, may complain to the governing body of the International Labor Office, which may inquire into the matter. Finally the complaint may have to be submitted to the International Court of Justice.

Herr Brauns thereupon agreed to recommend the ratification of the convention by Germany.

M. Albert Thomas, the Director of the International Labor Office, speaking subsequently on the results of the Conference, declared that the full and sincere ratification of the Convention was bound to follow.

ROBBERS STAGE TWO RAIDS IN SINZA DISTRICT

One Shot Is Fired In Air To Intimidate Occupants Of Shop

Two armed robberies have been reported to police of the Sinza section.

At 11.30 a.m., Tuesday, five men, each armed with a pistol, entered a house at 478-9 Manila Road. One of the men cut the telephone wires, while the others busied themselves in gathering together whatever of value they could find. From one of the women occupants of the place a wrist watch and gold finger ring were stolen. However, when the women informed the bandits that their master was in the next room, they became frightened and fled down Manila Road, taking with them $53.00 in cash and jewelry.

The second robbery was reported from 196 Myburgh Road, a dance shop. Two men, each armed with a pistol, entered the shop and demanded money. Twenty dollars was offered them, but they threatened to shoot unless given more. Then $100 was given to them, and they ran only firing one shot into the air as they fled.

Soviet Seeking To Obtain Return Of Canton Consulate

(Eastern News Agency)

Canton, Sept. 9.—The Russian Consulate, which is located in the settlement of Shameen, has been confiscated and disposed of in accordance with the land and building regulations of the settlement. But as a result of the conclusion of the new Soviet-Chinese agreement, the Soviet Consul, who recently arrived at his post here, has, for some time past, been negotiating with the Consular Body and the Chinese authorities concerned over the question of the transfer of the old Russian Consulate.

In view of the fact, however, that the Canton Government has not yet recognised the said Soviet-Chinese agreement, according no official treatment to the newly appointed Soviet Consul, and that the property of the old Russian Consulate is in possession of Great Britain, the negotiations have been referred direct to the authorities of the British concession here.

Another Of Russ Refugee Ships Is Sold In Manila

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Manila, August 28.—The Ilia Mormetz, one of the Russian vessels which arrived in Manila Bay a year and a half ago under Admiral Stark, has been sold to a local transportation company, leaving only two out of the eleven vessels in the original fleet which came from Vladivostok with more than 800 Russian refugees. The others have been sold to concerns here or in China. The company will use the Ilia Modometz which is a high-powered tug, in towing work in Philippine waters. The vessel built in Shanghai in 1916 is 154 feet long, has a draft of seventeen feet and a tonnage of 580.

Only forty of the original 800 refugees who came with the fleet remain in the Philippines, the others, including Admiral Stark, having departed for various countries. Some 600 were taken to the United States on the army transport Merritt more than a year ago and others have gone to Shanghai from time to time. Admiral Stark left only a few days ago for France where he expects to make his home and possibly enter business. He and his followers belong to the old monarchical regime and at present are not welcome in their native land.

HAVE YOU BACK-PAINS?

If So, This Will Interest You.

Most often backaches arise from, and are a proof of, poor blood and run-down nerves—a common condition in the Far East, especially at this time of year. When women suffer from them usually they are traceable to functional irregularities as well. It is very rare that back-pains indicate kidney disease, and usually sufferers find that all that is needed to completely banish them is a good blood and nerve tonic such as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

For over thirty-five years Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been a proved remedy for disorders arising from blood and nerve debility, as is proved by the irrefutable testimony of people living in all parts of the civilised world. The following evidence comes from Canada:

Mr. W. Prince, of Lovering, Ontario, says:—"Periodically I suffered with backache for about five years. If I caught cold it seemed to settle in my back, which pained me so badly that I could hardly turn over in bed. These attacks would last for a week or ten days. I tried many remedies but they did not drive away the trouble. About two years ago, while suffering from one of these attacks a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I followed his advice with the best of results, as I have had no attack of the trouble since, and I feel sure that I am permanently relieved."

You can get these Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail post free, $1.50 per bottle, $8.00 for 6 bottles, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 60 Kiangse Road, Shanghai.

Peking M.P.'s Are Still Dissatisfied With League Action

(Reuter's Service)

London, September 9.—Addressing a meeting of the International Federation of Universities at Geneva on September 7, Mr. Chao Hsin-chu dwelt on China's claim to re-election of a non-permanent member of the Council of the League of Nations. He said that if the result of the election of the non-permanent members would be unsatisfactory to Chinese public opinion, he did not know what the consequences would be. It would, in the face of the resolution of the Peking Parliament, and the views of the country be very difficult for the Chinese Delegation when making its report to meet all objections to continued membership, which would be urged with increasing force. Though the Chinese were disappointed, and though they considered they had not received the consideration to which they were entitled, the speaker assured his hearers that the Chinese were still warm supporters of the League of Nations, and hoped they would not be disappointed again in the coming election.

LEAGUE TURNS TO ROUTINE AS LEADERS LEAVE

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Sept. 10.—The Parliamentary opposition is not satisfied with the election of a Chinese as a Vice-President of the League of Nations and with the vague promise of the reduction of her contribution, which can only be decided by the Financial Committee.

The Opposition still wants withdrawal failing the re-election of a Chinese member to the Council, which is urged on the principle of geographical distribution, with a view to closer co-operation. With regard to the contribution it is pointed out that permanent members contributes on a 61 units basis, whereas China is paying on a 65, which is out of proportion.

China has so far paid 2,228,504 francs, equalling 431,907 gold dollars, which surpasses those of States which are permanent members. Moreover, China has established and maintains a special office in Europe to attend to matters connected with the League. It is finally pointed out that while the staff of the League Secretariat numbers 300 from all the States, only one unimportant position in the Information Bureau has been given to a Chinese.

Canton Parents Fear Bolshevism In Schools

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Canton, September 5.—Many parents are considering the advisability of withdrawing their children from the city's public schools in order, it is stated, to prevent them from coming under the influence of the "Bolshevists." By a recent order of the Mayor or Canton, Mr. Sun Fo, son of Dr. Sun Yat-sen, Canton public school teachers had to join the Kuomintang Political Party. Fully 500 of the teachers have been obliged to join or incur the risk of dismissal for non-compliance of instructions. An effort is now being made to assure the parents that neither the Mayor nor Mr. Wang Yen-hong, Commissioner of Education in the city, are "Bolshevists," and that their orders to the teachers to join have been forced by the higher authorities.

A report states that the arms seized by Dr. Sun are still in the custody of his followers at Whampoa, and that to prevent further stealing by the mercenaries, Dr. Sun has ordered that what has been left unstolen should be returned to the Norwegian steamer Hav, on which the consignment arrived on August 11. Another report is to the effect that Dr. Sun has given orders to the Customs to issue clearance papers to the steamer as soon as she is ready to sail.

The refusal of Dr. Sun to order the withdrawal of the special mercenaries despatched to Canton city, from the districts since the general strike, although the merchants declared their strike off as agreed upon in the preliminary terms for the return of the arms, has excited no little suspicion on the part of the citizens of Canton.

DEAD FINANCIALLY

Native bankers in Canton, though they re-opened their offices on September 1, still refrain from holding meetings in their exchange, and for the present Canton is a dead city financially, as no financial transactions are possible on account of the closing of the exchange.

According to the native bankers, there is no reliance to be placed on the story to the effect that Dr. Sun had received $1,000,000 from Marshal Chang Tso-lin for the purpose of making war against the North.

The failure of the Kwangsi-ite mercenaries further to dominate the civil and military affairs of the Tungkun District along the East river of Kwangtung, as seen by their being ousted from its chief city on September 1, is believed to have more significance than the ordinary guerilla warfare that has often occurred in the past between local inhabitants and the hired troops of Dr. Sun.

The Street Cleaning section of the Canton Municipal Department of Public Health may go out on strike in a few days, as they are now nearly two months in arrear with their wages; and it is stated that there is little prospect of their receiving the arrears.

EMPLOYES DISSATISFIED

The Municipal employes generally are stated to be much dissatisfied with the present treatment they are receiving from the Canton authorities and some of them are giving up their posts in order to join the Labor and farmer Corps of Dr. Sun's "Red Army". They are promised a uniform, a strap, a dagger, and a rifle, besides 35 cents a day; and all they have to do is to drill about an hour daily in the courtyard of the Governor's yamen. Since the organisation of the "Red Army" 70 ricsha pullers have joined the force.

The Cantonese merchants, it is stated, are not blind to the power that the mercenaries have obtained in Canton, and it would appear that the merchants prefer "mercenary militarism" to "foreign Bolshevism" in the hands of "unemployed coolies controlled by unscrupulous politicians."

Governor Liao Chung-hoi and Police Wu Te-chen, the officials alleged to have been directed by Dr. Sun to bombard the business section of Canton in the event of the strike not ending by the morning of August 27, whose orders failed owing to the unwillingness of their subordinates to comply, have submitted their resignations. Among those mentioned for the governorship is Dr. C. C. Wu, Secretary of Foreign Affairs to Dr. Sun, who held the post on one occasion for several weeks. General Lee Fok-lum, Garrison Commissioner of Honan, is mentioned for the post of Chief of Police.

What The Chinese Papers Are Saying

Peking, Sept. 8.—According to a Parliamentarian who has just returned from Nanking, the attitude of Governor Han Kuo-chun is calm and he wishes to have the present conflict localised. He asked the parliamentarian to ask Tsao Kun to limit the scope of the war activities and to proclaim peace as soon as the Kiangsu forces had made some gains. Nanking is now being garrisoned by one mixed brigade. Only 5,000 conscripted coolies have been transported southward along the Tientsin-Pukow Railway, while no uniformed soldiers have been seen along the line, according to the solons.—Shun Pao.

Peking, Sept. 8.—A Presidential Mandate was issued yesterday, giving Ma Lien-chia, Tuli of Anhui the rank of a full general and Chin Yung-au, a sword with seven lions. —Shun Pao.

Brass Bands Stage Endurance Contest; Police Called Out

Extreme Rivalry Of Filipino Musicans Almost Leads To Trouble

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Manila, August 28.—Rivalry between two brass bands became so keen during a concert at Pazig, Nizal province, this week that it was deemed necessary by the authorities to call out a detachment of constabulary and the entire police force of the town to preserve order.

The reason for this display of force was that the concert was a contest of ability and endurance between the bands, one from Tinajeros, a nearby town, and the other from Kawait, Cavite, home of General Emilio Aguinaldo.

The supporters of the contestants were there in force, ready to defend their organisation with fists, if music failed. After playing more than 300 pieces during the contest which lasted from seven o'clock Friday evening until daylight the next Sunday morning, the bands agreed to call the contest a draw, thereby avoiding any disturbance. There were no judges of the affair, it being the custom in these contests for the bands to play until one admits defeat, frequently from exhaustion. The two organisations which are considered among the best in the Philippines have met on at least three previous occasions and each time the result has been a draw.

One of the rules of the contests is that all selections must be played from memory without written music. Endurance and memory are tested to the utmost. One band plays five pieces and then the other has its turn. This program continues without intermission, day and night, until one side is beaten.

Playing from memory has been an acquisition of Filipino musicians from Spanish times. Recalling an incident at the St. Louis Exposition in 1904 where the Philippine Constabulary band played, a member of that organisation said that the lights went out one night while the band was giving a concert and that the audience was amazed when the music continued without a break. He said the band finished the piece and continued to play until the lights went on again.

Increase in Prices of Meats

Solution Passed By Butchers In Foreign Settlement And French Concession.

The supply of beef and mutton has its source from different interior places. The present conflict between Kiangsu and Chekiang troops has caused a stoppage to this source and the price of what is obtainable has soared up so high that we would be in face of very serious financial loss if we were to charge the same rate for any supply.

The attention of our patrons are therefore called to the increase of prices of beef and mutton which is to be in force from the 11th September. In order to avoid loss on the part of suppliers, the prices of the above-mentioned meats are to be increased by Forty percent (40%) of their original prices.

BIG RUSS ORDER IS PLACED IN GREAT BRITIAN

Agricultural Machinery Will Cost "Thousands Of Pounds"

Moscow, Aug. 12.—The Anglo-Russian agreement already has begun to bear fruit in the shape of an order just placed by the Centrosyous—Union of Russian Co-operatives—with English firms for agricultural machinery, according to Frank A. Wise, a director of the Centrosoyous, who is in Moscow to attend a meeting of Centrosoyous representatives from all over the world.

"This immediate order," he said, "runs into tens of thousands of pounds for heavy machinery, thrashing machines; &c. The Centrosoyous will receive from four to five years' credit partly by the British firms and partly from the Trade Facilities act which becomes available for Russia under the agreement.

"Judging by the way the Centrosoyous's business has increased in the last twelve months it is probable our dealings with these firms will be increased before very long."

Mr. Wise, who will run as a Labor Party candidate for one of the Bradford seats at the next general election, spoke most optimistically about Centrosoyous developments.

"The average monthly turnover is now between 25,000,000 and 30,000,000 gold rubles," he said. "During the last six months the rather heavy losses suffered in the Fall and Winter economic crisis have been entirely made up and the financial position is now absolutely stable.

"What is more, small local organisations report a highly encouraging accumulation of funds. Staffs and operating costs everywhere have been greatly reduced and I venture to say the Russian Centrosoyous compares favorably with any cooperative society in the world.

"Moreover, the Centrosoyous will tomorrow complete final payment on a debt of about £70,000 contracted by the pre-Bolshevik Administration toward the British Wholesale Cooperative Society. The confidence these payments have established permitted us to do more than £1,000,000 business with the Wholesale Cooperative Society on terms of three months to a year's credit. At present we are able to obtain credit terms at regular banker's interest, 5 or 6 per cent., and for many months British banks have been willing to finance our operations right from embarkation points in goods which may be way off in Siberia.

"My American colleague reports that similar facilities are now extended to the Centrosoyous in America, where our business, chiefly confined to furs, has totaled upward of $5,000,000 in the last year.

"Despite the pessimistic reports of the foreign press about the Russian harvest I may tell you that the Grain Export Corporation, which includes grain export departments of the Ministry of Foreign Trade Monopoly are now completing an arrangement with the Russia-British Grain Company for the export of 200,000 tons of grain during the coming year."

Mr. Wise who took an active part under Premier Lloyd George in the preparation of the Anglo-Russian trade agreement of 1921, expressed great satisfaction at the recent accord in London which he declared was sure to be approved by the British Parliament.

WHEAT CROP OF WORLD IS TOPIC OF DISCUSSION

New York National Bank Of Commerce Has No Fear Of Shortage

In discussing the world wheat situation, the National Bank of Commerce in New York says:

"There seems as yet little ground fod the fear that even with a world crop now estimated at 10 percent below that of 1923 an actual shortage will develop during 1924-25.

"The events of the year have shown again the amazing adaptability of demand to supply. With a crop in the chief importing countries of Europe in 1922 almost 190,000,000 bushels below that of the previous year, imports increased only a little over 20,000,000 bushels, while an increase of 160,000,000 in the 1923 crop was followed by a reduction in imports of only about 60,000,000 bushels. The figures indicate that imports fail to make up the full deficiency of a short crop, while in a season when the crop is good they tend to run higher than the quantities imported in a poor crop year would indicate true if, as in 1923, the world supply is large and the price moderate.

ORIENT PURCHASES LARGE

"In addition to unexpectedly large takings by European countries, the world situation was eased by record purchasing from the Orient during the last year. Exports of wheat and flour from the United States to Japan from Aug. 1, 1923 to May 31, 1924 were nearly double those of the corresponding period of the previous season and to China they were more than two and one-half times as great. Canadian exports to Japan through March, 1924 increased nearly threefold and those to China nearly fourfold. During the last six months of 1923 exports of wheat and flour rom Australia to Japan increased nearly two hundred times over the same period of 1922. The ratio of increase in flour shipments to China was considerably smaller.

"The official forecast of the United States crop on the basis of July 1 condition is 740,000,000 bushels, or 46,000,000 bushels less than last year's crop. If the outturn comes up to this estimate—and it may do better—around 100,000,000 bushels exclusive of carryover will almost certainly have to seek the international market either as wheat or as flour. The total may run even higher, depending upon the inducement to export offered by the world price. After the first three months following last year's harvest, when the bulk of wheat exports for the season went out, the surplus remaining in the United States from the crop was not large enough to press upon the market even at a price said to have been above the world level during part of the period. On the other hand, the carryover could be reduced considerably below that of last year and still find ample precedent.

CANADA IMPORTANT FACTOR.

"Canada, by reason of its large crop and small consumption requirements, is now the most important single factor in supplying world import needs. Final outturn will depend upon the weather between now and harvest time. Last year the official estimate on Aug. 1, with a condition of 106, was for a crop of 382,514,000 bushels, while the final estimate of outturn was 474,199,000 bushels. Even on the basis of the present estimate, exports from the crop should reach at least 200,000,000 bushels.

"Figures indicate a total for the chief exporting countries of from 500,000,000 to 600,000,000 bushels. With the surplus of around 100,000,000 bushels carried over from the 1923 crop the total supply available would approach 700,000,000 bushels. During the current season these countries exclusive of the Danube basin exported 712,000,000 bushels."

U. S. BUDGET OF THREE BILLIONS CONTEMPLATED

Total Federal Expense In 1926 To Be $4,000,000,000 Report

Washington, Aug. 13.—(I. N. S.).—President Coolidge will receive the preliminary draft of the 1926 budget, calling for expenditures of approximately $3,200,000,000, before the end of the week, Director of the Budget Lord announced today.

Contemplated Government appropriations for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1926, includes $1,800,000,000 for ordinary expenses; $830,000,000 interest on the public debt, and $450,000,000 for retirement of the public debt.

In addition there will be from $630,000,000 to $700,000,000 for the Postal Service, payable from postoffice receipts. The grand total of governmental operations cost in 1926 will approximate four billion dollars, in the opinion of Treasury officials.

The ordinary expenditures will show an increase of $100,000,000 over the 1925 estimate; increase for interest on the public debt will approximate $40,000,000 decrease, and increase for reduction of the public debt practically the same.

The increase of $100,000,000 is more apparent than real according to Budget Director Lord. We must provide in 1926 for World war adjusted compensation calling for about $150,000,000 not figured in the 1925 estimate. The limitation of $1,800,000,000 fixed by President Coolidge for Government expenses exclusive of the Postal Service and public debt is in reality a material reduction.

RECEIPTS REDUCED

The budget director predicated his program on 1926 receipts estimated by Acting Secretary of the Treasury Winston at about $3,695,000,000 compared to 1925 receipts of 3,685,000,000 and $4,012,000,000 in 1924. Should Congress at its next session provide for another reduction in taxes, revenues would be cut still further.

Under the Treasury Department comes the heaviest Government expense, estimated at about $1,521,00,000 for 1925. In this department comes the steadily increasing cost of prohibition and narcotic law enforcement, which will run about $10,500,000 in 1925, and the financing of the public debt.

It was not anticipated there would be much change in the War and Navy Department appropriations, which in 1925 are estimated at $336,000,000 and $613,000,000 respectively.

SCOTCH WHISKY
The men of the "eighties" were good judges of whisky. They favoured Sandy Macdonald so strongly that its success was conspicuous. But the men of to-day are even better judges, for they favour Sandy Macdonald more than ever. Sandy Macdonald is mellow, mature, soft and satisfying—a drink to appreciate.

Weather Reports

Sept. 9.—Low pressures over Kiangsi and Kwangtung. Large thunderstorm with diluvail showers beginning at half past three and still continuing at nine o'clock. SSEly winds before noon. Hot and sultry weather till the thunderstorm coming.

Sept. 10.—Misty; sultry and threatening weather. Easterly winds.

Sept. 11.—Overcast weather with showers or thunderstorms in our regions, owing to the depression over Kiangsi and Kwangtung, resulting from the landed typhoon, that is apparently moving slowly North wards or N-N-E' wards. Unsteady winds over the Yellow and the Eastern Seas.

Some Reflections On The Situation

A Stranger coming to these shores at this time is at once bewildered by the singular spectacle of Chinese soldiers slaying one another in dead earnest and concludes that there is civil war in progress at a time when the business of killing is rapidly passing out of fashion in other lands. But this same stranger becomes all the more confused when he tries to find out what they are fighting for since there is no apparent cause for fighting. Peking issues a mandate enumerating the alleged crimes of General Lu Yung-hsiang, and Wu Pei-fu and Marshal Chi Hsieh-yuan of Nanking take up the echo. We are told that the granting of refuge in Chekiang to the defeated Fukien Generals and their men is a crime against the nation although the same thing has been done over and over again by the very people who object to it now. "Little" Hsu, for example, according to report, was given refuge by Wu Pei-fu some two years ago despite the fact that Wu belongs to the Chihli faction and "Little" Hsu was then a stalwart of the Anfu Club. We do not know precisely why Wu Pei-fu should have been called upon to afford shelter to one who was persona non grata with the Chihli Party unless it be that Wu wished to use him as a blind to confound his adversaries, but it is clearly illogical to suggest that what Wu does becomes a crime when it is done by others. The question, therefore, of the vanquished Fukien Generals may at once be dismissed from one's mind in connection with the quest for a casus belli to justify the present fight.

Another factor of which much has been made by Marshal Chi and his supporters is the question of the special military administrative district in Shanghai and vicinity, which, as everyone knows, is in charge of General Ho Feng-lin, who is General Lu Yung-hsiang's lieutenant. Now Shanghai is part of Kiangsu Province and Marshal Chi of Kiangsu feels that Shanghai should be under his jurisdiction and not under that of Chekiang. It is generally known that this is the crux of the whole matter in connection with the Kiangsu-Chekiang dispute. Few people, however, more especially among the foreigners, are aware that the special military administrative district in Shanghai was set up according to the custom of the late Manchu Government. The province was under a Tartar General, who was amenable solely to the Peking Government. The late President Yuan Shih-kai followed in the footsteps of the Manchus and continued the system when he became President. The present Defence Commissioner was appointed from Peking and not by Chekiang. There is a good deal of talk about Chekiang setting up this administrative district, but all such talk scarcely corresponds with the realities of the situation. General Lu Yung-hsiang no doubt was astute enough to place his own man in Shanghai, when he was transfered to Hangchow but that is no fault of General Ho Feng-lin, whom all admit to be a capable administrator. If Peking wishes to discontinue a system which has the sanction of time-honored practice, there should be brought forward a better reason to justify the proposed change than that another man wants the job. To plunge the whole country into a bloody and disastrous civil war merely because one man wants a job held by another man is—well, we hardly know a term sufficiently strong to condemn such a situation.

Of course, the big reason given out by Peking is that Chekiang is an "independent" province, which is true, but whether a province is loyal or disloyal has not made much difference in the general scheme of things since the coming in of the Republic and modern militarism. The so-called loyal provinces are not remitting revenues to the Central Government any more than are the "independent" provinces. And from the standpoint of illegal taxation and treaty violation there is not any particular difference either. As soon as a general gets himself firmly entrenched in a province, he tells the Government to go to the devil anyway, and the Government, unless it has power to make him submit—which it has not—has to swallow its medicine whether the province is labeled loyal or disloyal. Szechwan, for instance, is now "loyal" to the extent that it is being governed by a lieutenant of General Wu Pei-fu, but the heads of the large shipping and business houses in Shanghai which have business in Szechwan report that the illegal taxation and treaty violations go on just the same as when the province was "disloyal." General Yang Sen in Szechwan must have money to support his armies in order to maintain his control, so he takes all the money he can get his hands on, and if there is any left he keeps that also—and if Peking does not like it, well—Peking can send another army and make him "loyal" again or take the province away from him.

The whole trouble rests in this matter of "forceful" unification, which we seriously doubt ever will work in this country. If China were so organised that there was a net-work of railways radiating from the capital to the extreme limits of the country, it might be possible for one military dictator to control the whole land for a time, but as the country now is, with practically no modern communication, it is always possible for an isolated section to break away from the central authority. Yuan Shih-kai tried it and he had the advantage of having powerful foreign financial support, but was unable to control the situation.

So to sum up, it does not make a bit of difference to the average citizen of China whether Lu or Chi controls Shanghai. If Chi is able to subjugate Chekiang Province, it will make him the biggest man in China. He now carries the title of Marshal and Inspector General of Kiangsu, Anhwei and Kiangsi. If he is able to bring Chekiang under his sway, he will have the four big and wealthy provinces of the lower Yangtsze and control the gateway to China. We imagine, with General Chi in this position, that it would not be long before he considered himself strong enough to measure swords with General Wu Pei-fu as the dictator of the whole country.

Thus goes the game, and, as stated before, the Chinese people pay the bills for this comic-opera warfare which is destroying the land.

The Future Safety Of Shanghai

THE Powers have given abundance of evidence of their intention to protect the Port of Shanghai and the Foreign Settlements against invasion by the belligerents in the present provincial war. Whether they will be successful in inducing the Chinese generals to create a neutral zone about the city remains yet to be seen and depends largely upon circumstances. If Chekiang is able to hold its present position, there is no worry, but should Kiangsu break through, the problem here would be most serious. That the Powers sensed this was indicated, of course, in the mobilisation of the Volunteers and the landing of marines from the various foreign war-craft in the harbor.

The question now is: what of the future? The Powers have strictly observed neutrality in the present struggle and in no way have they shown favoritism to either side. They have recognised the fact that this is purely a Chinese fight and that the foreigners' only concern is in the protection of their own property and the lives of their nationals residing here.

We suppose that the struggle will end some time and that one side or the other will win the fight. When that day comes, the Powers should be prepared with a very definite suggestion to the effect that the arsenal and powder works located in Shanghai should be removed. If Chekiang wins, then these elements of danger should be removed to Hangchow. If Nanking wins the final struggle, than they should go to Nanking. The point is they should go somewhere away from this great commercial and industrial city, and, in addition to this, the forts at Woosung should be eliminated.

The Powers have already obtained an agreement from all of the belligerent generals that the Whangpoo River, from Woosung to the arsenal, shall be neutral territory. Therefore the Woosung forts are of no value as an element of defence. The other forts above Woosung are sufficient for the protection of the Yangtsze against any force coming up river, and now that the Powers have declared the Whangpoo neutral, the value of the Woosung forts as defence against a force coming up to Shanghai has been eliminated. Therefore, why should this menace be continued?

There is no questioning the intention of the Powers to lend protection to Shanghai as long as foreign extraterritorial right and treaties guaranteeing same prevail. Therefore, why should they continue to permit munition factories and powder mills to continue in operation on the very edge of the Settlements? They are here now and nothing should be done to disturb them as long as the present conflict is in progress, but when the fight is over, the Powers should make a very strong suggestion to have them removed. And they should be kept away from Shanghai just as long as foreign rights prevail here. When foreign rights are abrogated and China assumes control of this great city, then the foreign interest in this question should cease and China should be permitted to build as many forts for the protection of Shanghai as she wishes. But for the remainder of the period of foreign control under the treaties—whether it is for a long or short time—the elimination of the arsenals should be insisted upon. And the time to insist is at the termination of the present war!

Little Drops Of Water

IT rained on Tuesday. Not that gentle rain, which, like mercy, droppeth on the place beneath, but a real deluge. It rained with an abandon which was anything but delightful. It stopped young ladies going to tea-parties, and kept reluctant gentlemen in their clubs long after their usual time. It stalled motor cars, and made our streets for some hours, raging torrents. But out of most evil cometh some good, and if the storm did nothing else, it kept one of our staff busy yesterday morning with a little mathematical problem, entirely of his own choosing. Starting with the published statement in one of the directories that the area of Shanghai, including the French Concession amounts to 5,942 acres he decided to endeavor to find out what weight of water fell on Shanghai during the storm, assuming that it fell with equal density over the whole area. To these two ingredients he added one other, also culled from a book, to the effect that a cubic foot of water weighs 62.5 lb. With these facts and the application of a little common arithmetic he proceeded to the following calculations: One inch of water falling over the whole of an acre represents a volume of 3,630 cubic feet. For the whole of Shanghai's 5,942 acres, the total volume would, therefore be somewhere in the neighbourhood of 21,468,420 cubic feet. But that is only if one inch of rain fell. Then the statement was published that over five and a half inches fell, so by a process of multiplication it was discovered that Shanghai was inundated by no less than 118,076,000 cubic feet.

If these figures are not big enough, they improve somewhat in the next stage of the calculation, for in order to discover the weight of water which fell it was necessary to multiply the imposing total given above with 62.5 lb. representing the weight of a cubic foot of the interesting element with which we were afflicted. And then we had a most interesting result, for we discovered that the weight in pounds avoirdupois was no less than 7,379,780,000, we having discarded anything below 10,000 as amounting to a mere bagatelle in view of the figures involved. That reduced into tons showed that on the assumptions above adopted some 3,295,000 tons of water fell on Shanghai during the six hours of rain we had.

All this sounds remarkably simple when it is written thus, but before we had completed the calculation we wondered why we had been foolish enough to embark upon it. Especially when it occurred to us, that Dr. Chatley might have an easier way of getting at the answer. We rang him up, and he was good enough to tell us that one inch of rain represents a weight of 101 tons per acre. Five and a half inches, means 555.5 tons to the acre, so that through his information we arrived at the conclusion, that supposing the rain fell with equal density over the whole of Shanghai, our drainage systems had to cope with no less than 3,300,781 tons. Of course, we know we are 6,000 tons out in our own calculation, but in extenuation it has to be pleaded that we went a very long way round to reach a solution, that our profession is journalism and not figures, and that in any event no one would accuse us of prevarication over a small matter like 6,000 tons of water in a total like that. The conclusion we draw from it all is that Tuesday night was the wettest night Shanghai has had for a very long time.

Our Literary Column

EXCERPTS FROM GREAT WRITERS

By Mathy

THE PLEASURES OF OUTLAWRY

The hand of civilisation has lain hard upon those professions wherein the outlaw spirit once found expression. The riproaring pirates have been swept from the seven seas. Bandits have been chased from the mountains. Robbers no longer infest the woods, and smugglers have deserted the caves. About all that is left for the poor wicked man is the gypsy bands in the country and the criminal class in the city.

Too little attention has been given to that primeval and persistent trait of human nature, the love of outlawry. That it is in the blood of all of us is shown by the fact that it breaks out in every boy. No boy wants to be a banker or a grocer when he grows up; they all want to become pirates, bandits, or circus clowns.

They are supposed to get over this as they mature, but a lot of it still lingers under the vests of the most respectable members of society.

It is doubtful whether any human being wants to sin. What he wants is to escape from respectability.

Few men drink liquor for the love of it. A vast deal of alcohol is consumed just because it seems devilish. When the host tips his guest the wink and stealthily leads the way to the back-closet under the stairs and produces a black bottle, how the flavor of the liquor is improved by the vicious delight in evading the watchfulness of the members of the Women's Temperance Society gathered in the parlor!

Few boys would learn to smoke if it were not impressed upon them that smoking perverts their morals and brings them to an early grave. For just the wild waywardess of doing something desperate they will sneak behind the barn and make themselves sick with father's pipe.

How many a marriage has gone wrong because of the irrepressible desire of human beings to make moral excursions might be an interesting subject for speculation. There is a cantankerous rebellion in the average human being toward anything that is legalised, even ecstatic bliss.

The criminal class is supposed to be confined to a few low-browed persons well known to the police. But all criminality does not lie within this corral. There are prepensities in all of us that differ but little from those in the professional law-breaker.

FARMER OR COOLIE ?

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS:

Dear Sir.—The discussion in the editorial columns of your paper of yesterday of the point raised by Mr. Kwok Bew that a farmer is not a coolie is very interesting. As to his point, I fully agree with Mr. Kwok for the fact is that every coolie is an uneducated and unskilful laborer selling his physical strength or muscle power for bread and butter but not every farmer. Most of the farmers in the interior are their own masters; some own lands; and some are very wealthy.

It seems that the word coolie has been misunderstood and misused and that the origin of same has been mistraced. It is not originated in Europe, but comes from the sound of two Chinese characters (苦力) meaning hard labor. These characters and the non-use of the word coolie in the Western countries strongly prove the Chinese origin of the word in question.

Like kowtow, mahjong, Japan, typhoon and many other words, the word coolie has, through the commercial channel, found its way into the Webster Dictionary, thus forming a part of and enriching the English language. In some of the English-Chinese dictionaries in the market, the word coolie has been wrongly translated into two entirely different Chinese and meaningless characters (佑僱)

To foreigners it seems that office boy, tailor, messenger, cook, house servant, waiter, mail-carrier, carpenter, driver, blacksmith and all others without a white collar or a Chinese long gown are coolies, but according to the narrow sense of the two Chinese characters (苦力) a coolie, strictly speaking, is a hard laborer, uneducated, unskilful, industrially unclassified, selling his physical strength or muscle power for bread and butter and doing the hardest and most painful work for the lowest pay. All others, including farmer, are not coolie (苦力); for only every coolie (苦力) is a working man (工人) but not every working man is a coolie.

DRESS

By Mary Marshall

Hair That is Bobbed off is Made into Puffs to Give Variety to the Bobbed Head

Whether a woman is bobbed or long-haired no longer seems to be an easy question to answer. It is quite a simple matter for a girl to take the fatal step that robs her of her tresses and still keep the fact hidden from all but her intimate friends. Those who only meet her for luncheon or tea when she wears her hat drawn well down over her head may be left guessing while from her appearance at dinner or a dance one might be quite convinced that she had long hair.

That fact is that a great number of women who have been bobbed for the first time rather recently are not leaving their lost hair to be disposed of by the barber who wields the long scissors, but ask to have it saved. From it they have puffs or coils or curls made and these "pieces" answer the purpose of transforming the informal bob into something more formal for evening wear.

A hair dresser the other day said that it was all part of a great game on the part of the French hairdressers to rob and bleed the Americans. She was one of the few hairdressers not bobbed herself and she seemed to have little use for bobbed hair in general.

"The French hairdressers got the women to have their hair cut off," she said, "so that they would have a chance to sell them false pieces when they got tired of having it short. Those French hairdressers, I know them," she added.

Bobbed hair caught into a puff of hair at the back and held in place with a net.

Only the exceptional woman looks well in a bobbed headress in the evening. There is a long line at the back of the neck that usually looks much better if relieved by a coil or roll of their when deep low neck is worn at the back.

The sketch shows how simple it is to transform the bob into a quite dignified evening coiffure. The hair is first brushed quite sleekly off the forehead and fastened at the back securely where a puff of hair is placed to hide the ends. To further secure the coiffure a net is worn over all.

Chang Tso-lin Pleased As France Declines To Settle Gold Franc Claim

(Special to THE CHINA PRESS)

Mukden, Sept. 7.—Information has been received here that the Peking Government has proposed to the French government for an immediate settlement of the gold franc dispute. As the Peking government is in a desperate endeavor to get some ready money in order to carry on the war in the South, many of its terms were more than favorable to the French. However, the French government has flatly rejected the offer, on account of the unsettled condition in China. France does not want to take advantage of China's internal strife and does not intend to help Peking financially in civil wars which would undoubtedly arouse the opposition of China as a whole.

General Chang Tso-lin received the information and was rather amused. He immediately sent a wireless to Marshal Joffre asking him to convey his personal appreciation to the French government for its wise judgment which, Marshal Chang says, has undoubtedly met with the wishes of the majority of the Chinese people.

Marshal Chang has also received a confidential report from certain quarters that Marshal Wu Pei-fu has recently employed a German military officer who had a long and successful career during the European war. Marshal Chang received the information through a man who happened to handle a remittance from Wu to the German officer telling him to proceed to Loyang at once as circumstances require his immediate service there.

Marshal Chang appeared to be greatly exasperated over this action of Wu. He has order Mr. Chung Shih-ming, the Commissioner of Foreign Affairs for Fengtien, to send a strong protest to Mr. Walter, the German Consul General in Mukden requesting him to warn the said German officer not to join in any fight with Chinese troops as that would incur himself great danger, General Chang said. He will also inform his allies in the South to stop any such German officer when passing through their territories.

The Marshal, in an interview with the representative of THE CHINA PRESS expressed his determination to assist the Chekiang forces if Wu Pei-fu would send any troops down to help the Kiangsu militarist. But he is at present holding his troops in check as he thinks that Lu Yung-hsiang is strong enough to cope with the situation alone. He says he will kill every and each soldier trying to invade his territory and he will "hold himself responsible for anybody who can go back with his life after invading the Manchurian provinces."

Everything here is quiet. There is not so much talk about war here as in Peking or in Tientsin. This may be due to the strict vigilance of the public authorities. Several newspapers in Mukden are denouncing the actions of the Chihli party and the Marshal himself is believing that he is at this time on the favorable side of public sentiment.
